

Panorama Research Institute

Research Fellow Application Form

Applicable to applicants for Research Fellow, Associate Research Fellow, and related academic appointments at Panorama Research Institute.

I. Application Notes

Panorama Research Institute is a research and academic development platform under Panorama Scholarly Group. Its work covers academic research, research project organization, scholarly publishing studies, indexing and evaluation research, policy and social research, artificial intelligence and future society studies, academic events, think-tank reports, and international collaboration.

This application form is used for applicants seeking academic appointment as Research Fellow, Associate Research Fellow, or related research positions. Applicants must ensure that all information and materials submitted are true, accurate, and complete. Panorama Research Institute will conduct a comprehensive review based on the applicant's educational background, research experience, academic outputs, research alignment, future research plan, and potential contribution to the Institute.

Submission of this application form does not automatically constitute admission, employment, a labor relationship, an employment relationship, or any commitment to salary or remuneration. The final appointment result, term of appointment, responsibilities, rights, benefits, cooperation model, and financial arrangements shall be subject to the official written notice, appointment document, cooperation agreement, or project agreement issued or approved by the Institute.

The application number will be assigned internally by the Institute after receipt of the application. Applicants do not need to fill in the application number.
